Future Role of the Business Sector as a Public Institution Promoting Universal Values ~Beyond Business and Human Rights~

A peaceful and fair society provides a good environment for business.

Business opportunities can be found in solving structural challenges including human rights violations.

Declaration of commitment to peace, fairness, and respect for human rights; dialogue with government and civil society.

A fair society where human rights are protected and citizens are involved in policymaking.

Society

Business Sector

Civil Society

Media

Government

Congress • Military • Police • Courts

Universities, research institutions, labor unions, etc.